Judge Martin this morning took up the habeas corpus case in which Mrs. E. E. Hutchinson is seeking to get possession of her grand daughter, Hallie Pool, who is now in charge of Ed McCannon of this city.

This case was on trial about month ago. The testimony of one witness was heard and the trial was postponed until today in order to give time to get up more evidence. Lenoard Doughty and Dan H. Triplett of Houston are representing the plaintiff. Duff & Duff are attorneys for th Plaintiff alleges that her daughter, Hallie Hutchinson, was married to Ed Pool in February, 1898. They lived together in Temple until June 12, 1900, when Mrs. Pool died. Th ebaby, Hallie Pool, was taken in charge by Ed McCannon, who was then liv ing at Temple.

Mrs. Hutchinson says that sked for the child a number of times but that her request was not granted the child was given her. Some time he be allowed to take the child home with him on a visit. Plaintiff says he was permitted to do so but never HOT brought the child back. He refused to give it up, and hence the habeas corpus proceedings. Mrs. Hutchinson says in her peti tion that her daughter always had a premonition that she would die young and she always expressed happiness that petitioner would have the raising of the child.

Judge Martin this morning continued for the term the case of Emma Bailey vs. T. and N. O. railroad.
